

PROFESSOR PAUL HALLWOOD PhD

Resume, curriculum vitae, vita, CV

March 2021

Professor, Paul Hallwood
Department of Economics,
University of Connecticut.

Telephone: 860 304 3651.

E-mail: paul.hallwood@uconn.edu

My longest-standing research interest is in international economics with books and papers in each of its four main fields: international trade, international finance, economics of multinational corporations, and international political economy. A more recent research interest is in the economics of the oceans, with a book and papers published on matters such as the law and economics governing paleontological finds in the US, the law and economics of historic shipwrecks, and the law and economics of maritime piracy.

Before joining the faculty at the University of Connecticut Professor Hallwood was in the Department of Economics at the University of Aberdeen. He has also held the position of Senior Research Economist in the Saudi Arabian Foreign Ministry, and as a visiting professor at Bond University in Australia, Boston University and Denison University in the US and the University of Limburg in the Netherlands.
